Ecuador – Amazon Kayaking Adventure

A Lodge to Lodge Kayak Exploration of the World’s Most Diverse Ecosystem Led by Expert Naturalist Guides

Amazon Rainforest Paddling Near Pilchicocha Lake

Have you ever dreamed of being a jungle explorer? Here is your chance to glide soundlessly down a rainforest river in a kayak with only the sound of bird calls and rustling of troops of monkeys in the treetops overhead to break the silence. This trip, that no one else offers, gives you the chance to paddle the river systems of the Ecuadorian Amazon around the Yasuni National Park in Feathercraft® tropical expedition sea kayaks. The kayaks offer unrivaled access to the small tributaries and the mysteries of the flood forest in the famed Amazon, and their silent progress makes for outstanding wildlife viewing and encounters that are missed by passengers who travel in motorized craft.

- Glide across mirror calm lakes to look for pink Amazon river dolphins, and scan the jungle for flocks of brilliant macaws as well as over 12 species of primates
- In this extraordinary region, which holds the highest concentration of flora and fauna species in the world, explore the forest from the floor to canopy with expert interpretation provided by both naturalist and aboriginal guides
- Return after the day’s kayaking to the comforts of one of the three deluxe jungle eco-lodges that make up the accommodations on this trip

Sardinia is a world apart and our kayaking trip is a unique new way to explore this ruggedly pastoral island ringed by an exquisitely clear turquoise blue sea. An ancient land with a language and culture all its own, Sardinia has a history that goes back to before the Phoenicians. Our nine day exploration features the best kayaking in the Mediterranean, a hike into Europe's most spectacular canyon and no less than three UNESCO World Heritages sites. Sardinia is renowned for its food and wine, and on this trip we enjoy primo locavore dining at Agriturismos and sample wine from the distinctive terroirs of Sardinia's ancient Vermentino and Cannonau grape varietals.

- Paddle in crystalline blue water along the beaches, cliffs, grottos and giant sea caves of the magnificent Gulf of Orosei
- Explore the Islands of the La Maddalena Archipelago, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, and enjoy the best kayaking in the Mediterranean
- Journey in the heart of the rugged Supramonte and hike the Gorropu Gorge, Europe's greatest canyon that was once the haunt and hideout of notorious Sardinian bandits

Venice has been dazzling visitors for centuries. The unique character of this water city is linked to the Adriatic Sea and defined by the Laguna (lagoon) that has sustained it for fifteen centuries. Venice and its lagoon combined make up a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Our kayaking trip, rated one of the best new trips in Europe, is an unparalleled journey into the heart of the city, and it explores some of the mysterious islands of the 212 square mile Laguna. You'll paddle the canals of Venice and explore the various sestieri (districts) each with a colorful legacy in the history of the Most Serene Republic of Venice – La Serenissima.

- Learn the art of Venetian rowing at a Remiera rowing club operated by retired gondoliers and then join them for lunch in their clubhouse
- Dine on the freshest seafood prepared in a range of classic styles in restaurants favored by the locals
- Stay at carefully selected boutique accommodations including waterfront rooms in a private yacht club on Isola San Giorgio Maggiore directly across from Piazza San Marco

"I have traveled to Venice on a few prior occasions, but the use of kayaks to see the city and the surrounding area may have left the most indelible impression on me. I enjoyed so many aspects of this tour which allowed us to witness the life of the region from a most unique vantage point—in a kayak on the busy canals and back waterways of Venice."

 Cinque Terre and Sardinia June 2014

Our Cinque Terre and Sardinia trip combines the Mediterranean’s best kayaking, scenery and food. The beauty of Cinque Terre can’t be overstated and our pace allows you to enjoy the vistas and savor the subtle details. You’ll visit local food producers and enjoy the very best of Ligurian cuisine in rustic villages. Sardinia blends spectacular beaches and seascapes with distinctive culture and character that is all its own. Paddling island to island in the La Maddalena Archipelago, a national park and UNESCO World Heritage Site, you’ll explore the many small coves framed by surreal rock formations and hike to ancient ruins.

- This is a remarkable paddling trip that spans two different regions of Italy with scenery to rival anything else in the world
- Every day ends in a gorgeous boutique hotel or guesthouse where you can sit and enjoy the sunset with a glass of wine and a meal of the finest local Mediterranean cuisine
- Become enthralled with Genoa’s Porto Antico, the Old City that still has the look and feel of the Middle Ages where arm-span narrow alleyways open to grand palaces

The Riviera di Levante is one of the most magically beautiful stretches of coastline in the world. Steeped in history and set against a rough mountain background, the towns of the Riviera seem like a series of pastel colored jewels set against the vivid blue of the Mediterranean and backed by rugged mountains. Kayaking the Riviera lets us observe both the subtle details and the grand vistas of this unique place and at a pace that also allows us the time to immerse ourselves in the culture. With a focus on locally sourced Mediterranean cuisine, this trip is really a feast for the senses.

- Clear warm water invites us to swim at nearly every stop, and each afternoon finds us in a beautiful town with winding streets to wander and discoveries to make
- Enjoy snacks of crispy, warm focaccia scented with rosemary or a frosted cup of gelato, and, at the end of a paddling day, a glass or two of chilled local white wine
- Experience la dolce vita in this special place of warm water, sun drenched beaches, great food and harmony of life at the sea’s edge

— Suzan Goldhaber, Setauket, NY
 Kayaking Halong Bay October 2013

Our trip starts in Hanoi, Vietnam’s 1000-year-old capital and the “Paris of Southeast Asia” where you’ll discover the wonders of this ancient city. On Halong Bay, we kayak every day, immersed in this vast archipelago’s turquoise lagoons and hidden sea caves, stopping to swim in the warm jade-green water and relax on beautiful sand beaches. Food is one of the best ways to go deeper into a culture, and Vietnam’s cuisine is a delicious blend of classical Asian with French colonial. We’ve picked culinary experiences that bring an extra dimension and resonance to your visit. Our Vietnam kayaking trip combines some of the most beautiful and exotic paddling in the world with some of the best food anywhere.

- Paddle through the more than 2000 soaring limestone karst islets sculpted by elements to form a labyrinth of protected and spectacularly scenic waterways
- Stay aboard a beautifully appointed 100-foot long junk rigged sailing vessel equipped with spacious air-conditioned double cabins with ensuite bathrooms
- Wander colorful markets with a chef, sip Vietnamese coffee in cafés, and look at the wondrous array of delicious foods available from street vendors

We have designed a Galapagos kayaking adventure that virtually defines “trip of a lifetime.” These islands, where creatures have never learned fear of humans, will forever change the way you think of wildlife. Traveling from island to island, you’ll hike otherworldly volcanic landscapes and have amazingly up close (really up close) encounters with wildlife like giant tortoises, marine iguanas and blue-footed boobies. Explore the turquoise waters by kayak and snorkel with penguins, sea turtles, and playful sea lions. Staying in exquisite boutique hotels, you escape the crowds and explore the Galapagos under your own power, forging a unique connection to one of the most remarkable places on Earth.

- On trips timed for the best wildlife viewing, expert kayak guides work alongside top naturalist guides to bring you an unforgettable Galapagos adventure
- Interact with marvelous wildlife every day; every evening come back to a hot shower and stretch out and relax in a beautifully appointed seaside room
- We use locally owned transportation services, stay in locally owned hotels, and buy all of our food and supplies on the islands, so this trip truly represents our values in responsible and sustainable tourism

 Sea Kayaking the Costa Verde, May 2013

We've paddled all over the world and "perfect" is not a word we use lightly, but west of Rio de Janeiro on Brazil's southern coast is the Costa Verde, an area, steeped in history and rich with wildlife, that is very nearly perfect for sea kayaking. The "Green Coast" includes the UNESCO World Heritage Site of Paraty and two ecological reserves that hold some of the world's last intact Atlantic Rainforest. Our paddling trip includes Saco de Mamanguá, Brazil's tropical fjord, and a stretch of coastline dotted with tiny villages, exquisite beaches and waterfall swimming holes. With accommodations at comfortable ecolodges and guesthouses, this boat supported journey blends comfort with a truly unique kayak travel experience.

- Enjoy a special insider tour of vibrant Rio de Janeiro, one of the world's great cities, and now a UNESCO World Heritage Site
- Explore the Atlantic Rainforest, the Mata Atlântica, and observe first-hand the biodiversity and endemic species of this threatened tropical forest ecosystem
- Experience for yourself this magical corner of Brazil, a place where nature, fun, and music are never far apart

Our new Croatia kayaking trip explores remote, little-traveled islands on Croatia's Dalmatian Coast that truly make up Europe's most unspoiled coastline. Paddle clear turquoise waters to beautifully wooded islands, hike to historic ruins and meander through red-roofed villages. This journey takes you off the beaten track to the hauntingly beautiful and timeless islands of Kornati Archipelago and along a coast that is steeped in history. Stone towns, Venetian palaces and fortresses dot this sun-drenched landscape of olive groves and vineyards. Along the way we stay at the water's edge in boutique hotels and rustic inns. Even if you've traveled to Croatia before, we will show you new facets of this ancient land and its culture.

- Visit two National Parks and four UNESCO World Heritage Sites on this richly diverse new trip
- Paddle island to island, swim in turquoise blue waters and dine on excellent Adriatic Mediterranean food and wine from small local producers
- An exclusive warm-water kayaking adventure with just 8 guests, the option of single or double kayaks and opportunity to polish your paddling skills with expert instruction

KAYAKING THE SEA OF CORTEZ

Our longest running Baja trips explore an area encompassing the islands of Loreto Bay National Marine Park. A UNESCO World Heritage Site, this area offers a perfect blend of kayaking, hiking and snorkeling. The waters here are favored by Blue and Fin Whales during the winter and spring and by pods of dolphins year-round. Our island campsites provide the best opportunities for marine mammal sightings and encounters. Small coves teem with exotically colored fish while bird life abounds on the islands. Slip into a relaxing rhythm of sunny days, memorable gourmet meals, star filled nights and blazing crimson-gold sunrises. Leave winter behind and discover the warmth of Baja.

KAYAKING AND WHALE WATCHING

These trips combine two of the best natural experiences in Baja. In the clear, turquoise Sea of Cortez, massive Blue and Fin whales are drawn to the feed rich waters of Loreto Bay National Marine Park. You'll enjoy days of great kayaking and the very best opportunities for sightings and encounters. In Magdalena Bay, an ecological reserve on Baja's Pacific Coast where migrating Gray whales come to give birth, you'll stay in a well-appointed base camp and venture out by skiff for whale watching in this marine nursery. An important coastal habitat, the Bay also hosts dolphins, sea turtles and a huge number of migratory birds. These trips truly are the very best of Baja and we offer a range of options to suit both individuals and families.

KAYAKING ISLA ESPIRTU SANTO

A National Park and UNESCO World Heritage Site, Espirtu Santo is renowned for gorgeous, white-sand beach campsites framed by red rock cliffs. Each headland brings a new and delightful surprise as yet another picture perfect beach comes into view. This is Baja kayaking at its best with sun, warm turquoise blue water, margaritas at sunset and great food prepared by your guides. The snorkeling is excellent and the clear warm waters are alive with brightly tropical fish. As an added bonus this trip is boat supported, so along with an extra level of safety, you'll paddle light kayaks between camps while all the equipment is transported by skiff.

LORETO TO LA PAZ THE HIDDEN COAST

One of North America's great classic kayaking expeditions, our Hidden Coast trip explores the remote shores of the Sierra Gigante Range between Loreto and La Paz. The coast here is spectacular with small picture-perfect coves and arching white sand beaches. The Sierra Gigante mountains provide a dramatic backdrop and the only signs of civilization are an occasional isolated rancho or fish camp. This is a great, boat supported kayaking tour for the avid paddler. Beautiful campsites, crystal clear coves alive with fish, miles of beachcombing and hikes are only some of the attractions of this spectacular stretch of coastline.

ISLA CARMEN CIRCUMNAVIGATION

Circumnavigate the crown jewel of the Loreto Bay National Park. Rugged red-hued peaks studded with towering cardon cacti provide the backdrop for the 60 miles of this classic Baja paddle. Carmen is the largest island in the Park; the coastline has a remarkable range of geology and terrain, from small pebbled coves to broad white-sand beaches. Arroyos hikes provide access to the interior of the island where you'll encounter desert iguanas and big-horned sheep. The waters around the island teem with life and the snorkeling is exceptional. Take the time to explore this hidden corner of Baja and enjoy the relaxing rhythm of early mornings, active sun-drenched days and star filled nights.

ESPIRTU SANTO ISLAND SEA LIONS AND WHALE SHARKS

This special trip combines paddling around what is considered one of the most beautiful Islands in the world. Along with great kayaking there are two unforgettable wildlife encounters – a visit to a sea lion colony where you'll snorkel among the colony's playful younger members as they cavort around you, and a great experience snorkeling with whale sharks. These gentle giants are not whales at all but actually the world's largest fish. Docile and unafraid, they allow us to snorkel close enough to observe the pattern of pale dots and stripes on their gray skin. Few people ever have a chance to see, let alone swim with, a whale shark, and it is definitely an experience not to be missed!
